

Natural Resources & Environmental Studies To be Updated Soon! Let's Get In Touch We are based at the downtown of Juba City P.O Box 82 Juba - South Sudan +211 922 660 805 +211 922 660 804

By implementing these strategies, Juba City could significantly improve its waste management practices, reduce environmental pollution, promote resource recovery, and create a cleaner and healthier living ...

For sustainable, long-term change, Juba needs dedicated policies focused on limiting plastic usage and promoting recycling. A city-wide ban on single-use plastics would mirror the ...

Established to address the country's pressing environmental and developmental challenges, the school provides practical and research-driven programmes that prepare students to manage natural ...

To provide high-quality undergraduate and diploma education, conduct applied research and work with communities and institutions to promote sustainable and integrated management of natural ...

Climate scientist Shazneen Cyrus Gazdar (centre) and UN peacekeepers participate in a clean-up event in Juba, South Sudan, on World Environment Day in June 2023.

We prepare our students with the scientific knowledge, technical skills and ethical mindset required to address environmental challenges--from ecosystem management and pollution control to ...

This study aims to assess and quantify the ecological footprint at University of Juba campus and compare them to the environmental sustainability.

Juba environmental sustainability

Web: <https://www.kgangkgologrp.co.za>

